Frosh Baseball Squad Making Good Progress

Infield Looks Promising; Plenty of Hurlers And Catchers

Kenyon's Frosh baseball hopes look particularly good with the strength centering around the infield which looks especially snappy and consistent. The men at the mound look like ball twirlers of whom Kenyon has a goodly array.

Behind the bat, "Johnny" Moore, Frosh basketball leader and Boynton will battle it out for a chance to wear the mit, with Moore possessing a slight edge.

At first, Sims and Pease look like possible material to keep their foot on the sack. At second, Dillon, Arnold and Sherman are all battling for a place on the bag, and at the hot corner Plummer and McCabe are in fighting togs.

Kenyon has a fine squad of shortstops with Leland, Graney, and Pelletier picking up speedy grounders and nailing liners in the firing zone.

In the box all aspiring to wear the glove are Nutting, Fickett, Spurling, Bagley, Weirs, and Kisonack, with Nutting, Spurling and Bagley showing the best form for steady twirlers at the opposite end of the battery.

The first game comes with Kent's Hill on the 27th and with a little outdoor practice before the engagement, Kenyon will place a nine against this strong prep school that bids fair to win a victory.

Prof. Mather To Speak At Vespers Sunday On Religion and Science

The University is particularly fortunate in having for the Vesper service next Sunday the outstanding speaker of the country on the relation of science and religion, Professor Kirtley F. Mather, Chairman of the Department of Geology and Geography at Harvard University.

Professor Mather graduated from Denison University in 1909, with the degree of Bachelor of Science, and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Chicago in 1912. He has taught Geology at the University of Arkansas, Queens University, Canada, and Denison, and has been chairman of the Department at Harvard since 1915.

Since 1911 Professor Mather has been a member of the United States Geological Survey, in which organization he has held the rank of geologist since 1919. In his work for the government he has made surveys of the geology and oil and gas resources of various parts of Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico and done exploration work in the Kamishak region of Alaska. From 1919 to 1921 he conducted geological explorations along the eastern front of the Andes in Bolivia for one of the larger American oil companies. He has been employed by various clients for similar work in connection with petroleum resources in Mexico and Nova Scotia.

Professor Mather is a Fellow of the Play Day Program Defies Weather Man

Co-eds Have Varied Spring Sports Program Arranged

Plans for the Women's Athletic Association Play Day to be held May 23 are progressing. At present only a few of the invited high schools have been heard from, but acceptances are coming in daily.

The program committee with Hazel Parkhurst 31 at the head, has drawn up two programs, preparing for rain or shine. The morning will be spent in registration, volley ball, races, archery, and baseball. In the afternoon the girls will participate in stunts. Soccer is to be one of the main events. There will be an opportunity for all the girls to witness the finals of the Boys' High School Field Day in the Indoor Field. At night a banquet or a picnic will bring the Play Day to a close.

The Committees for the event are handling it well, and preparations for a "big" day have been made.

Lindsay Weds Miss Edna Hunt of Orono

FRANCIS J. LINDSAY

Francis J. Lindsay, star long distance runner on the University of Maine track squad was married Wednesday evening to Miss Edna Hunt of Orono. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harold Metzner of the Methodist church, at the home of the bride's sister, Miss Laura Hunt, at Orono. Miss Laura Hunt was bridesmaid and Arthur O. Willey, instructor in mechanical engineering at Maine, was best man. Close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay were present at the ceremony, and the party was served a buffet lunch at the home of Miss Laura Hunt. The bride's bouquet was of tea roses and sweet peas.

The wedding came as a surprise to their many friends on the campus and in Orono. Lindsay will make the trip with the Maine relay team to the Penn Relays next week. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Pauline Hall Chosen Maine R.O.T.C. Sponsor; Announce S-B. Pledges

Miss Pauline Hall '30 was chosen sponsor for the University of Maine R.O.T.C. unit at the annual military hop held at Alumni Hall last Friday evening.

The hop was extraordinarily brilliant this year. It started off with a colorful grand march under a large flag hung overhead, patriotically shedding long red, white and blue streamers down to the sides of the booths. Tiny flags decorated the refreshments. Even the favors were military—bronze paper openers in shape of guns.

During intermission the new pledges to Scabbard and Blade were announced: Beckwith, Chilman, DeCoster, Hardy, Hoff, Lathrop, Lewson, Ramsdell, Scott. They are all members of the Junior class. Their initiation will be held some time this spring.

While the new pledges were yet on the floor, Miss Hall was led before the line of Scabbard and Blade members, received her commission, and a hearty salute, after which she returned to her booth, the most popular young woman at the University of Maine.

CHENEY NEW BASKETBALL MANAGER

L. G. Cheney was elected manager of varsity basketball Wednesday. The assistant managers elected were A. F. Denaco and N. L. French.

Dr. Colvin Breaks Her Arm In Fall Saturday

Late Saturday afternoon, while turning the corner of Main and Mill Streets, Dr. Caroline Colvin, sustained a severe fall. Dr. Tomlinson, who was just leaving Nichols Drug Store, came to her assistance. He helped her to the Inn. Dr. Woodcock of Bangor, was called and it was decided to take her to the Eastern Maine General Hospital. After examination, it was found that Dr. Colvin had broken her right arm near the shoulder joint. Miss Colvin is head of the history department, but due to the severity of her fall, she does not expect to resume her classes for the balance of the semester.

M. Wasgatt New President Women's Student Govt.

Helen Beasley Is Vice President; Secretary-Treasurer Erma Barton

Martha Wasgatt was elected president of the Women's Student Government for the coming year at the elections held last week. This is the most important women's office on the campus, and is a great honor for the girl who receives it. Miss Wasgatt was also elected to the All Maine Women's Association last night, which is one of the highest honors for a Maine girl.

The other officers elected were: Helen Beasley for vice-president, Erma Barton for secretary, and Evelyn Randall for treasurer. The elections were of great interest to the women students on this campus, in that the organization represents student ruling. Feeling that these privileges are great indeed the women students wish to have for their representatives girls who are outstanding and who can be depended on.

New Point System Of Eligibility To Be Used This Fall

The Committee on Administration at the regular meeting on Monday, April 15, adopted a new rule for placing students on probation and for removing from probation. Under the old rule, a student who received eight hours of "E" or "F" at the middle or end of the semester was placed on probation. A student was removed from probation if he made up the arrears which had placed him on probation or passed all the work of a half semester. In the College of Arts and Sciences, "D" grades were reckoned as three-quarter "E" grade. Under the new rule, a student receiving an average grade of less than 1.400 at the middle or end of a semester will be placed on probation. He will remain on probation until the next grade period, at which time he will be removed from probation if he has an average grade of 1.600 for the preceding half semester.

It is believed that this new rule offers a fairer method of dealing with unsatisfactory records.

All Maine Women Pledge New Members at Dinner Wednesday Evening

The All-Maine Women at the Penobscot Valley Country Club last evening held their fifth annual banquet. Representatives from the women's organizations and women faculty members were present.

The toastmistress was the president of the society, Sadie Thompson. Alice Webster gave the greetings from All-Maine Women. Beulah Osgood spoke representing the alumnae. She told of the founding of the society in 1925, its purpose to act as a balance wheel on the campus, to cooperate with all organizations and movements, to carry on work that will tend to draw the faculty and students together, and at all times to stand for those things which are highest and best, and most worth while in college life.

Mary Robinson representing the Athletic Association, Polly Hall, Student Government, and Jeanette Roney, the Y. W.C.A. spoke. Doris Baker gave a piano solo. Dean Bean told of the honor that it is to be an All-Maine Woman.

The speaker of the banquet was Henry E. Dunnack, librarian of the Maine State Library. His subject was concerning the value of an education, and he gave inspiring ideas about the beauty of simplicity, munificence, the knowing heart, and the believing mind.

The present members are Sadie Thompson, "Kay" Marvin, Jessie Ashworth, Alice Webster, Caroline Collins, Claire Callaghan, Mary Robinson and "Polly" Hall. From the senior class the new pledges are Sibyl Leach, "Holly" Hawkes, Zella McKenzie, Helen Moore and Carlisle Mutt; Juniors, Christine Norwood, Jenny Hutchinson, "Gin" Roney, Rachel Matthews, and Martha Wasgatt, and from the sophomore class, "Pat" Barton. Honorary members chosen are Dr. Mary Ellen Chase and Miss Joan Colcord.

On Receiving Line At Sophomore Hop

FRED HALL

The annual Sophomore Hop, to be held in the Gym from eight till two on Friday will without doubt be one of the pleasantest of such affairs.

Plans are materializing rapidly in the hands of the committee, Don Marshall, chairman, Doris Osgood, Barbara Hunt, Wallace Harvard and Norman Webber. Hood's Merry-makers will play and fraternities will sit by booths. A new feature of this dance will be the aids from each fraternity who will conduct the incoming people to the receiving line. In the line will be: President and Mrs. Boardman, Dr. and Mrs. Rice, Dr. and Mrs. Young, Professor and Mrs. Bailey and Fred Hall.

The Freshman Banquet will be held at the Old Town City Hall, at 6:30 P.M., April 19. Special cars will leave the campus at 5:50 P.M. The Patrons and Patronesses are: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Hosea B. Buck, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kenyon and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Youngs. The members of the banquet committee are: Anna Buck, Chairman, Evelyn Randall, John Dickson and George Loane.

Louis Untermeyer To Speak at Maine April 26

Louis Untermeyer, nationally known poet, essayist, and anthologist, will speak in Alumni Hall, Friday, April 26 at 8 P.M. His subject is to be "The New Era in American Poetry", and there is scarcely anyone in the ranks of contemporary writers better able to present both a stimulating criticism and an interesting lecture on this field. Besides being one of the noted poets of the day, Mr. Untermeyer has done extensive work in criticism and anthology and has a fine grasp of his subject.

The Contributors' Club is the organization which is bringing the University this opportunity. Every year some outstanding literary figure of the day is secured as a speaker. This year the choice is an especially happy one, and an opportunity not to be missed. The tickets are $5.00 and may be procured from Beatrice Bryenton, Philip Brockway, or purchased at the door.

Eight Maine Trackmen Priming For Penn. Relays April 26-27; Maine To Send Strong Team

Brooks, MacNaughton, Lindsay, and Richardson To Run Relay; Black and Gowell Entered In Field Events; O'Connor In Broad and High Jumps; Beckler In Pole Vault

WALTER HALL INJURED WHEN HIT BY DISCUS

Walter Hall, a freshman at the University of Maine, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Hall of Orono was seriously injured when struck in the head by a discus thrown by Earl "Bill" Gowell, Maine's star discus thrower, Tuesday afternoon. Hall had completed his workout in the preparation for freshman dash events while Gowell was throwing the discus preparing for the Penn. relays. As Hall crossed the court the discus struck him a glancing blow on the top of the head, and then bounced to his arm. The blow resulted in a fractured skull and a badly bruised arm. Hall was unconscious for about forty minutes. The accident is not expected to prove fatal, according to hospital authorities, and Hall is resting as comfortably as can be expected at the Eastern Maine General Hospital at Bangor, where he was taken after the mishap.

He was attended by his father at the indoor field before he was taken to the hospital. It is said that Dr. Hall was not aware that the patient was his son until he reached the field.

With a four mile relay quartet that is turning in time of 17:54 with about two weeks' practice, Coach Jenkins is priming for the Penn Relays at Philadelphia, April 26-27. Coach Jenkins has an array of relay material available that is the strongest in years and which should place well up in the foreground at the Penn Relays. With four veteran cross country stars in running togs the hopes for the relay turning in speedy time look good. Captains elect of cross-country, "Harry" Richardson and "Bud" Lindsay with Vic MacNaughton and "Buddy" Brooks will compose the team that will leave for Philadelphia.

The record at U. of Penn. in the four mile relay is now 17:51 although this time has been broken at the Texas Relays with a clock time of 17:40. The chief contenders in the field against Maine will be the University of Illinois, Indiana, Texas, Harvard and N. Y. U. The team has nearly two weeks left to train in and it seems evident from what they are doing now that they will be able to clip a few seconds off from their present time record.

Capt. Black who has been casting out the hammer in the vicinity of 180 ft. will also enter in the field events. Various difficulties in the way will not permit the sending of more than six or seven men counting the relay contingent.

Senate and House Pass Bill To Abolish Hitch-Hiking On Maine Roads

Hitch-hiking, commonly called bumming, will be illegal if Governor William Tudor Gardner signs the bill that has been passed by the House of Representatives and the Senate at the session just closed.

This bill if made a law will have a considerable effect on University of Maine students, as it has become a common practice for the men and women too in some cases to "bum" as they call it to and from their homes.

If the law was passed it would mean that all soliciting of rides on the roads of the state would be prohibited, and that there would probably be a penalty imposed on offenders of the law.

Whether the passing of the bill by both houses of the state legislature will bring up discussions among students remains to be seen. The law was a popular topic for discussion on college campuses while it was before the legislature for consideration, and it will undoubtedly be a popular topic to talk about at the different colleges until Gov. Gardner either vetoes or signs the bill to make it a law of the state of Maine.

Audience and Judges Give N.Y.U. Debaters Decision Over Maine

The N. Y. U. debaters won a unanimous decision of the 3 judges over the Maine team in Alumni Hall Wednesday evening. The subject was: Resolved that the Jury System should be abolished. The visitors from N. Y. State upheld the affirmative. Their speakers in order of position were Michael Katzff, Milton Rosenberg and Duke Avnet. Maine was represented by Newell Kurson, Charles E. O'Connor and, due to illness of George Ankeles, Helen Bowerman filled the third position. The constructive speeches were ten minutes long, with five minutes for each to give rebuttal. The judges were: Raymond Fellows, Atty. Gen. of State, Bangor, William Mitchell, Atty. at Law, Bangor, Myer Segal, business man, Bangor.

A new system of voting was tried last night, that of audience decision. Each listener signed a slip of paper on which he wrote his belief as to the abolishment of the Jury System before the vote. After the debate, each one of the audience voted as to which side had done the most effective debating. The vote of the audience was 75-54 in favor of the N. Y. U.

AN ACCIDENT

The first real accident that has happened in the Maine Indoor Field since it was built occurred Tuesday afternoon when a discus thrown by a university trackman struck a freshman who was practicing in the building, fracturing his skull. Maine has been especially fortunate in avoiding all such casualties in the past, and it is hoped that with due precaution that accidents in the future will be few and far between.

It would be hard to place the blame for this mishap on any one person. While it might appear that some one or several persons were careless or not observant there was no criminal negligence on the part of anyone connected with the happening. People who do not know the facts of the case and the conditions at the indoor field are apt to get a false impression. But suffice it to say that the management of athletics takes all precautions possible to avoid accidents. The clean slate of the accident docket at the indoor field in the past shows that these precautions have proved effective. But accidents will happen no matter what precautions may be taken to avoid them, and the Tuesday afternoon mishap must be regarded as one of those accidents that are classed as unavoidable.

AN OVERWORKED ABUSE

The local telephone company has been having trouble with late night calls from the men's dormitory. The use of much profane language on the part of the callers and, also attempts to "take the night operator for a ride" have been proving a constant source of annoyance for some time. Such actions are unbecoming to college men, and while it is next to impossible to trace a call to an individual it is quite easy to trace them to the phone from where they were made. Such calls cast a reflection on the group of people from whose building they come, and also hurt the reputation of the college as a whole.

It has been a common practice for some time for men at the dormitory and also at several fraternity houses to make "joke calls", and also to cause trouble for operators. It is understood that the Bangor office of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has authorized the night operator at Orono to discontinue answering calls from the men's dormitory after ten o'clock at night because of the disturbance that has been caused by men that refuse to "grow up". The discontinuing of the dorm service after ten o'clock would be a great inconvenience to those wishing to make legitimate calls after that hour, but it seems the only logical thing that the company can do to eliminate the annoyance. If you know that any person makes it a practice to annoy telephone operators, or to misuse the telephone you would be doing a great service to yourself and to the college if you would do all in your power to prevent that person from continuing to misuse a valuable and an almost indispensable public utility.

AVOID FIRES

One morning last week a man was seen to throw a lighted match into the grass lot on the side of the road on the way from Orono to the campus which started the field burning. The man left the scene of the fire, and hurried off about his business. The fire did little damage except the burning of more or less grass, the day being rainy kept the flames from making much progress. A dry day with a high wind might have resulted in a different story.

Care should be taken with matches about grass lots on the campus, and also on the roadside to and from the campus. A fire that may furnish a little harmless amusement for a short time, may if left to burn, destroy a home, woodlot, or other property.

In making reference to the possibility of class scraps during the week of the sophomore hop and the freshman banquet in this column it was not for the purpose to stir up class rivalry, but simply to bring up for discussion the problem of class fights after the official Rising Night. In past years with the Rising Night celebration coming after the sophomore hop and the freshman banquet there was no cause for question, but with the change this year many were interested to see what the outcome would be. We have the opinion of the Senior Skulls in the Correspondence Column of the Campus this week, and it is hoped that the members of both the sophomore and freshman classes will benefit by it.

The modification of interclass scraps at the university should be regarded as a step forward, and the members of the Senior Skull society are deserving of praise for the work which they have done toward abolishing demonstration that in the past have caused the destruction of property and also personal injury in some cases.

The Campus Board wishes to thank the many members of the Faculty who have generously responded to the letter from the Editor-in-Chief asking for contributions in the form of the price of subscription.

One member of the Faculty returned her letter marked "With pleasure" and with a check attached. Another accompanied his check with a note saying: "I have enjoyed the Campus this year and take pleasure in sending you one dollar in this letter."

These expressions of cordial co-operation are appreciated.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor of the Campus,
Dear Sir:

In the last two issues of the Campus there appeared several references to the class scraps which for several years have taken place just prior to the Freshman Banquet and the Sophomore Hop. Editorial comments even encouraged the renewal of conflict this year. It appears that you do not realize that the purpose of the placing ahead of Rising Night this spring was to eliminate the fighting, cutting of classes, and destruction of University property by the members of the two lower classes at this time.

The trustees of the University, having noticed the sad effects which several days of fighting had upon all concerned, requested the Senior Skulls early last fall to investigate the matter in an attempt to prevent similar trouble this year and in the future. After much discussion it was decided to place the date of Rising Night before the date of the Banquet and Hop, since this would allow the freshmen to make up for the indignities which they were supposed to have suffered and would give them little reason to reopen the struggle at the time of the Banquet and Hop. The class scraps are very interesting to watch, of course, but the effects of several days' loss of classes is less interesting to the men who take part in them.

Very truly yours,
Senior Skull Society
George L. Coltart, President

The Editor of the Campus,
Orono, Maine.

Dear Sir:

Whether the editorials of the Campus represent a consensus of opinion or a personal conviction, it would seem by the tone of the continual harping on the matter of class scrapping that there are some, presumably spectators, who would like to see something doing. Of course, it does not matter to these people if there is a digging up of buried enmities, a paying off of forgotten grudges, and a possibility of more or less serious injury in the resulting scraps; they will not be in it.

Undoubtedly it is well to have some class rivalry, but could it not be diverted into athletics with class teams, etc., instead of all this mauling of each other as if we were still kids? It seems to me that we owe it to our self-respect to put away these childish things and to learn to be the "men" we like to think we are. I am very glad to see the stand that Mr. Brown took in the last week's Campus and I trust that all those who will be Sophomores next year will be sincerely of his opinion.

This embittering of the interclass spirit is bad for the students; it makes ill-feeling where there should be kindness, enmities instead of friends, and broken bones for a whole skin. One would think that an editor who had truly at heart the good of the two under classes rather than the stimulation of sensational material for his newspaper would lend his influence to the abolishment of these atavistic exhibitions, which are very often a disgrace to the participants and hence the University of Maine.

Yours truly,
Maurice R. Wheeler

Dear Editor:

In running thru an old minute book the other day, I happened across the following "Ten Ways for Killing an Organization." Since there is so much discussion at the present time of campus organizations, particularly the Student Senate, it might be worth while publishing.

1. Don't come to the meetings.
2. If you do come, be sure to come late.
3. If the weather doesn't suit you, don't think of coming.
4. If you do attend a meeting, find fault with officers and members.
5. Never accept an office—it is easier to criticize than to do things.
6. Nevertheless, get sore if you are not appointed on an important committee—if you are, do not attend the meetings.
7. If asked by the chairman to give your views on some important matter, have nothing to say. After the meeting tell everyone how things should be done.
8. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary, but when others roll up their sleeves, willingly and unselfishly using their ability to help matters along, then howl that the organization is run by a clique.
9. Hold back your dues as long as possible, or don't pay them at all.
10. Don't bother about getting members. "Let George do it."

Sincerely,
Clarine M. Coffin

HYDRANTS DAMAGED

Hydrants on College Avenue were the centers of attack for automobile drivers during the past week end. A hydrant in front of the Phi Kappa House was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. A. L. Fitch. The broken hydrant kept many men in fraternity houses from taking their Sunday baths.

Another hydrant in front of Lambda Chi was also damaged by an automobile during the week end.

"OUTWARD BOUND" TO BE PRESENTED JUNIOR WEEK

The "Maine Masque" will contribute to the festivities of Junior Week this year with the production of Sutton Vane's unique mystery drama, "Outward Bound" which was staged with such great success two years ago. "Outward Bound" is something out of the ordinary as far as contemporary drama goes for besides being especially entertaining for the uniqueness of its plot it has a certain ethereal, spooky atmosphere about it, bathing it in mystery and suspense that will make it entertaining to the greatest lover of thrills. "Outward Bound" should satisfy the melodramatic and with the veteran cast of old time campus performers a drama will be staged that all those who appreciate a good play may readily cater to, and fill the University Chapel to overflowing on May 2.

Many of the old performers are back in playing togs, and discretion has been used in placing the others of the cast in roles they are adapted to and characters which they can portray best for the success of the play itself.

"Polly" Hall, the star of "What Every Woman Knows," will appear in the role of Mrs. Midget. You will know who she really is before the end of the evening.

"Bob" Parks last appearing in Barrie's success as the aspiring diplomat, John Shand will interpret the role of the Reverend Thompson.

"Artie" Connor will resume his old role of the youthful lover, Henry and Inez Waters will play up to him as the other figure in the plot, necessary for romance, his sweetheart.

Scrooby, the worthy steward, will be interpreted by Raymond Bradstreet whom Mrs. Craig terrified to distraction in "Craig's Wife".

Tom, the young renegade, will be professionally rendered by Munroe Getchell, the "Getch" all mentors know who depicted the fanatic in "Hell Bent For Heaven".

Maurice Wheeler will appear in a role particularly adapted to his dramatic talent in playing the character of the Reverend Duke, a most deserving ecclesiastic.

The star of "Craig's Wife", "Kay" Buck tackles the difficult role of Mrs. Clive de Banks once more and from the convincing interpretation of the immaculate home lover as witnessed in "Craig's Wife" leaves little to be said about the ability of "Kay" to play the role of Mrs. Clive de Banks to perfection.

Finally, in the cast summary is the character of the business man, Mr. Lingley, rendered so very realistically by the Masque detective and "handy" man, Mil-edge Beckwith.

"Outward Bound" will be a treat that no one on the campus should miss and be to the general rush and confusion of Junior Week all had better procure their tickets early from Mr. Arthur Conner, George Berry or any members of the Masque.

MAINE CRATORS MAY COMPETE IN INTERCOLLEGIATE CONTEST

KENT'S LETTER PUBLISHED IN "SPORTSMANSHIP"

The following letter from B. C. Kent, Faculty Manager of Athletics at the University of Maine, appeared in the April issue of "Sportsmanship," a magazine published by the Sportsmanship Brotherhood.

Maine, Orono. I am sending you under separate cover a copy of our intercollegiate basketball program. You will note that I have used some of your material because of the fact that we have had so many comments on the code of sportsmanship as printed in the 1928 program. You will notice that it is reprinted in this year's book.

James P. Ashworth, a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, has been selected to represent the University at the conference of college officers and delegates which will be held at the University Club in Boston on April 25 and 26. Dean Paul Cloke of the College of Technology is to attend the conference and, if possible, the Alumni Association will be represented by the Secretary, Charles E. Crossland. The general theme of the conference will be "opportunities and requirements for success in various fields, such as sales, finance, production, merchandising, etc."

Alumni Watches

The Senate, at the meeting on Wednesday, April 24, will nominate the list of candidates for the annual award of the Washington Alumni Watch.

The Washington Alumni Watch is presented at Commencement to the member of the Senior Class who in the opinion of the students and faculty has done the most for the University during his course. Members of the Senate should discuss the matter with the groups they represent in order to carry an expression of opinion to the meeting.

The Women's Student Government for the Women's Watch and the election Association will also make nominations which will be at the same time the Senior Class elects its commencement officers.

Seniors, juniors and sophomores are eligible to vote for the Alumni Watch awards but freshmen are not permitted to take part in the election as it is not felt that they are not sufficiently well acquainted with the Seniors to know who has rendered the most worth while service to the University during the four years college course. At least 50% of the three upper classes are expected to vote in order to make the election valid. If less than 50% vote then the selection is made by the faculty.

Rev. Harold Metzner To Leave Orono

The Rev. Harold Metzner of the Methodist Church in Orono has been transferred by the Methodist Conference which recently assembled in Bangor. He will assume his new labors at the Methodist Church in Waterville beginning on Sunday, April 28th.

"Metz" has served as pastor in Orono for five years. Those years have been packed with accomplishments of every nature. He has won the firm friendship of all students at the University; he has mixed with them, has helped them in their problems, and has caused them to better sense their vital relationship to the Master of Men. Hardly a Maine man or woman has left our campus in the last five years without the impress of this personality. As a leader in discussion groups, as a highly entertaining reader, and as a Vespers preacher, "Metz" has won the esteem of hundreds. It is sincerely regretted that he must leave the University town.

The farewell sermon will be delivered this coming Sunday. Mr. Metzner will preach upon the topic, "If I Had One Sermon to Preach". The services are at 10:30 A.M.

Strand To Have Vitaphone

The Strand Theater in Orono has sent in an order for a machine that will show Vitaphone, Talkie pictures and also Movietone News. According to Abe Goldsmith, owner of the Strand the new machine will be installed during the summer, and the theater will be ready to show talking pictures at the opening of college next fall.

The Strand will continue its policy of showing the best productions and will do all possible to cooperate with the University. Mr. Goldsmith said in an interview with the Campus. With the new machine it will be possible for students at Maine to see all the pictures that are being shown in New York moving picture houses. Goldsmith said that in order to make it possible to operate the new machine that he will need the support of all of the student body. A slight advance in the price scale will be necessary when the talkie machine is in action.

PLEDGING

By a ruling of the Interfraternity Council, rushing and pledging of additional freshmen may begin May 1. The ruling formerly in force had set the date as falling on the third week before Commencement. The council had desired to have April 8 the date on which rushing and pledging could commence.

Read 'Em And Weep

COLLEGE MAN OF TODAY

Oh, I say, gov'nor, you ought to have been here last week! It was immense! We drowned the President of the Freshman Class and—tee-hee-hee, two of us crawled into Professor's Draper's room, after he'd gone to bed, and turned on all the gas jets.

Prof.: How dare you swear before me? Zak: How did I know that you wanted to swear first.

Judge: "You say the defendant turned and whistled to the dog. What followed?" Intelligent witness: "The dog."

Hootman who lives in Chicago, was standing in front of his auto giving his chauffeur directions when a shot rang out, and struck the chauffeur in the leg. "Highland imp," ejaculated the Scotchman, "that was a narrow escape. It might have punctured a tire."

Adam—Wonderful night, a beautiful girl—what a combination! Eve—Goodness, is that showing?

A jolly young chemistry tough While mixing a compound of stuff, Dropped a match in the vial And after a while They found his front teeth and one cuff.

Prof.: Not that I know of. Why, do you feel a bit lonesome.

THOTS AT SEA

The first day called up fears that made me nervous hearted,

The next day called up memories of friends from whom I'd parted,

The third day called up thots of land, where one is safely catted,

The fourth day called up everything I'd eaten since I started.

Cicero, the Cynic says: There's one good thing about the radio—you don't have to see the quartette.

If you take six oranges, two lemons, two pounds of sugar, one bottle of milk and a can of preserved pineapple—you will probably get pinched for pilfering.

He: I proposed to Ella and she laughed at me.

She: Oh, she laughs at the most stupid things.

"Sorority Sauce!" exclaimed the fifish as he got a look at his blind date.

TOO SOLID

Speaking of X-Rays, a professor said, "They can x-ray even the head in a short time."

Student: "Why, I had an x-ray of my head once, and it took an awfully long time."

Prof.: "Well, that was because there was so much bone in it."

And it took a woman to win the milking contest! Men, what are we coming to anyway?

"Short words are generally the best to use, I find."

"Yes," said the hen-pecked husband, "and thin words, too, the kind you can get in edgewise."

Did you hear about Bob Parks going to the fair? The Ford(?) with ten Phi Gams piled on, chugged painfully up to the gate. The gate-keeper, demanding the usual fee for automobiles, called: "A dollar for the car!"

Where do all the sparrows come from? Ever since the blizzard of '08 sent thousands of homeless sparrows scurrying to the caves of Wingate, Alumni, Balentine, and others too numerous to mention, their increasing numbers have been a distinct menace to the very life of the college. "Fewer, less often,—and house broken" was the motto of a campaign against sparrows recently instigated by Read 'Em and Weep, but a lack of sufficient cooperation on the part of the sparrows forced us to let the matter drop.

SCREEN

"CHUM NIGHT" at the Strand Theatre has been cancelled on Friday, April 19th and will be held the following Friday, April 26, when "THE GIRL ON THE BARGE" will be shown. On "CHUM NIGHT" regular admission prices will prevail excepting that a lady and gentleman attending together will be admitted for 35c.

Edward Sloman, director of Universal's intensely human romance, "The Girl on the Barge," starring Jean Hersholt, which will open at the Strand theatre on April 26, has no formula for the perfect screen play except that it be real.

"A screen drama must sparkle with life," he said. "You must study your story with a mosaic of small character incidents."

"When most people think of Napoleon, they recall the occurrence when he found a sentry almost asleep and walked his post for him instead of condemning him to death. With Lincoln it is the stories of his early studies, his strict honesty and of his letter to the woman who lost five sons in the Civil War.

"It is this same idea which must be applied to the characters of a motion picture story. Build the character with such incidents all the way through the picture. Be true to your character and from these small things you will know how the character will react to a big emotional climax—whether he will triumph or fail."

By following this rule Sloman has made himself one of the most prominent dramatic directors in motion pictures. He has many big successes to his credit, including "His People," "Surrender!" "We Americans," "The Foreign Legion" and "The Girl on the Barge."

"The Girl on the Barge" is from a story by Rupert Hughes. The cast supporting Hersholt includes Sally O'Neil, Malcolm MacGregor, Morris McIntosh, Nancy Kelly, George Offerman, Henry West and J. Francis Robertson. The picture was made largely on location along the Champlain Ship canal in New York State.

Raymond White '31 and Miss Helen Sterns '32 are wanted at the box office of the Strand Theatre at Orono. They will receive two free passes each to any performance at the Strand the last three days of this week or the first three days of next week, by presenting this column of the Campus at the box office.

Bowdoin Gridmen Start First Spring Practice

Whittier Field is the scene of Bowdoin's annual spring football practice which got underway this week with a fairly good sized squad in attendance. Of course there are plenty of gridmen who are out for track and baseball so the squad doesn't represent all the men in college who have aspirations to handle the pig skin.

Practice will be held four times a week for the next three weeks and Coach Mal Morrell has been working his charges principally on the fundamentals of the game with emphasis on the proper handling of the ball. In addition to any experience these men may gain this spring Mal hopes that all football men will find work this summer which will help to keep them in tip top physical condition for the real grid work to come next fall.

Dean Stevens will attend a meeting of the deans of those liberal arts colleges in the East which are connected with state universities. The meeting will be held at Rutgers College, New Jersey.

There will be a meeting of the Conversation Club Friday at the home of Dr. J. M. Bartlett. The subject of the discussion which will be led by Dr. Ashworth, will be "Town Reports."

A vision come true

In a part of Africa little known to the whites, where obscure trails ran, Cecil Rhodes dared to envision a railroad. He lived to build it.

The railroad itself was part of a vaster dream, a dream of a far inland colony linked fast to existing coast settlements by rail and wire communication. And he lived to build Rhodesia.

First the dream, then the reality, is the rule with telephone men too, as they work to greater heights of service. But in between, they know, must come periods of careful planning and smooth coordination of many elements.

Scientific research, manufacturing, plant construction, commercial development, public relations, administration—many varied telephone activities offer a widening opportunity to practical-minded visionaries.

Geological Society of America, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Geographical Society, the Royal Geographical Society and the Engineering Economics Foundation. He is a past president of the Ohio Academy of Science and a member of the American Institution of Mining Engineers, the American Society of Petroleum Geologists and various other scientific bodies. He is the author of many articles, most of which pertain to geological subjects, which have appeared in various technical and popular magazines. During the winter of 1927-28 he gave a series of radio broadcasts from Boston and these talks have since been published as a volume entitled "Old Mother Earth." He is much in demand for addresses dealing with the relations between science and religion. His book entitled "Science in Search of God" was selected as the "Religious-Book-of-the-Month" for August, 1928, by the Religious Book Club.

The subject of Sunday's address will be "The Impact of Modern Science upon Religion." The meeting will begin at 4:15, and nearly all the time will be given to the address. This will be the only opportunity of hearing Professor Mather this year.

SOCIETY

On Tuesday evening, April 16, President and Mrs. Boardman graciously opened their home for the annual reception to the seniors. $100,000 More Needed for Memorial Gym Fund

Immediately a thorough study of the situation was made to determine what seemed best to do. Only three possible methods were open, (1) to build the gym as planned, (2) to erect a smaller structure or (3) to build a cheaper one. It seemed most unwise and unworthy of Maine that a Memorial above all buildings should be built which was either inadequate to meet our needs or of such poor construction as to be a reflection upon both those in honor of whom the Memorial is to be erected and those who contributed.

A series of ten day campaigns by areas is to be put on, the first such intensive drive having just been completed in New York City. The final outcome has not yet been received tho early reports indicate that the quota for the area will be attained.

Important announcements concerning this second alumni campaign are to be made Alumni Day, June 8.
